SLC Team Highlights

Moises Espinosa

Francini Inc. - General Manager
Salt Lake City, UT

Job Anniversary: 2008
(Since the beginning!)

I come from a humble family of 8. My parents always emphasized the importance of hard work. I, of course, had to stray and emphasized on adding working smart to hard work!

In my spare time I enjoy working on car projects. I especially love older cars, and my dream car is a 1967 Chevelle SS.

With Francini, I am directly involved in purchasing materials from Brazil. However, I like to help wherever my Francini family needs me. Working at Francini gives me the freedom to help establish great relationships with many fabricators and homebuilders. Francini's main focus has always been to help our clients grow along with us. I simply see it as good honest business and a win win.

Jon Hansen

Francini Inc. - Staff (New Hire)
Salt Lake City, UT

Job Anniversary Date: 10/12/18

Hometown: Denver, CO

My name is Jon Hansen. Some random facts about me are that I come from a family of seven, I played sports in college, my favorite travel spot is Spring Training and my bucket list includes seeing a baseball game at all 32 Major League Baseball stadiums.

I heard about Francini through a fabricator and was drawn to the fact that it is a private company with an owner who is accessible. My favorite aspects of working at Francini are visiting with people, having the freedom to help sell Francini stone, seeing some amazing stone fabrication, and that each day is different.

Lexie Bullett

Francini Inc. - Staff
Salt Lake City, UT

Job Anniversary Date: July 2013

Hometown: Murray, UT

I've been working for Francini for just over five years now and have found it interesting to watch how the material changes over time. If there is any advice I would give new hires, it would be to listen to your clients, hear what they want and what they don't. Nothing is more rewarding than watching a client leave happy and smiling. I would also add to learn from your coworkers' unique styles of selling.

Some random facts about me are that I am a novice photographer, my favorite travel spot is Oregon (especially a little animal sanctuary for big cats in Bandon, Oregon), and I believe you've reached success when everyone around you is thriving and happy.

One day, I plan to travel to England for both personal and professional reasons. I would also really enjoy traveling to see where some of our materials come from.
